In 1925, Ana Polidori launched Polidori Sausage when she and her husband Rocco opened Polidori's Grocery and Meat Market in North Denver. It was there that Ana first prepared her family heirloom Italian sausage recipes which she brought with her from Abruzzi, her hometown in Italy. Choice cuts of nicely trimmed pork shoulder and carefully measured seasonings were Ana's secrets.

Today, Polidori Sausage continues Ana's tradition and is operated by Ana's great grandchildren Steve and Melodie Polidori. Polidori's product line has grown to include chorizo, many flavors and sizes of breakfast sausage, bratwurst and meatballs. Daily high quality pork sausages are produced for a variety of uses. Polidori's products continue to be free of MSG, preservatives, filler, gluten, soy, nitrates and artificial coloring.
